ROOSEVELT IS NOW CANDIDATE

Will Accept if Tendered Nomination.

REPLY IS BRIEF BUT DEFINITE

Republican Ranks Are Badly
Split Over Colonel's Declaration.

REPUDIATES ADMINISTRATION

New York, Feb. 25.—"I will accept the nomination for President if it is tendered me, and I will adhere to the decision until the convention has expressed its preference," is Col. Theodore Roosevelt's reply to the letter of seven Republican Governors asking him to stand for nomination.

The eagerly awaited reply was given out to-night at Col. Roosevelt's offices here during his absence on a trip to Boston. It is unexpectedly brief, but definite.

Republican Ranks Split.

Washington, Feb. 25.—Col. Theodore Roosevelt's announcement for the Presidency has split the Republican party beyond all hope of mending before the election in November next. This is the unanimous opinion of Democratic Senators and members of Congress to-night. The split, they believe, is in policies as well as candidates.

Privately, a majority of the Republicans take exactly the same view. The great issue of the Republican pre-convention campaign has been made by Mr. Roosevelt. It is the anti-third-term rule.

Not since Quay, Platt and other strong Republican leaders sought to slaughter President Harrison when he sought renomination in 1892 and did pave the way for his defeat after renomination, has the Republican party been so divided.

Even many of the Republican progressives who favor Mr. Roosevelt fear that he may have gravely erred in thus proclaiming himself a candidate and inferentially repudiating the Republican Administration, which he, more than any other man, brought into power.

The White House grounds were dark to-night. An air of gloom pervaded them. Speaker Champ Clark voiced the high spirits of the Democrats, which were in marked contrast to the mood of the Republicans. The Speaker said:

"We can beat one Republican as well as another this year. They all look alike to me."

Fuel was added to the fire late to-night by the handing out of a statement from the Roosevelt headquarters here which was so direct and specific an attack on the Taft Administration that it was accepted generally by all who saw it as having been inspired by Col. Roosevelt himself.

It found fault with the President for using the steam-roller of Federal patronage to get delegates in the South. It was an evidence of the sort of campaign Mr. Roosevelt is going to wage, now that his "hat is in the ring."

Representative Phillip P. Campbell voiced the sentiment of the near progressives in the Republican party when he said: "I have always admired Mr. Roosevelt, but I do not believe in appealing from the decision of the empire to the bleachers."

This homely illustration from a baseball game, which everybody can understand, was meant to be a slap at the Roosevelt doctrine of appealing decisions of the courts to the people, as expressed last week in his Columbus speech.

On the other hand some of the radical insurgents were jubilant to-night. Representative George W. Norris, of Nebraska, said: "That settles it. It is all over but the shouting. Roosevelt will be nominated and elected. Taft could never be elected."

"Uncle Joe" Cannon said: "Oh, well, I'm a Republican, not a Populist."

A RADICAL CHANGE OF VIEW BY ROOSEVELT

1912.

"I will accept the nomination for President if it is tendered to me, and I will adhere to this decision until the convention has expressed its preference. I hope the people may be given the chance, through the primaries, to express their preference as to who shall be the nominee of the Republican Presidential Convention.

"THEODORE ROOSEVELT," 1904.

"On the 4th of March next I shall have served three and a half years, and this three and a half years constitute my first term. The wise custom which limits the President to two terms regards the substance and not the form, and under no circumstances will I be a candidate for or accept any nomination."

"THEODORE ROOSEVELT."

GOT THEIR CONFIDENCE
BY KNEELING IN PRAYER

St. Louis, Mo., Feb. 24.—Aaron B. Donaldson, a mining promoter and former Methodist minister, was sentenced to-day in Judge Shirley's Court at Taylorville, Ill., to an indeterminate term of from one to fourteen years in Chester Penitentiary for alleged operation of a confidence game, by which it is charged he got $80,000 from Joseph Downs and Mrs. Oro Ridgley, of Assumption, Ill.

Donaldson was sentenced in St. Louis, to serve three years in prison, and has been at liberty on an appeal bond on a similar charge about eight months.

Mrs. Ridgley, who is a daughter of Downs, testified that Donaldson got into their confidence by kneeling with them at family prayer in their home at Assumption. He addressed her in endearing terms, one of which was "Buttercup," she said.

Downs said that Donaldson induced him to invest $78,720 in mining enterprises, and retained all but $10,000 of it for his own use.

Downs said Donaldson told him the firm owned valuable lands in Butler and Wayne counties, Missouri, and was capitalized for $1,500,000.

DEATH OF H. P. CULLEN AT HOME AT LIVERMORE

Livermore, Ky., Feb. 24.—Mr. Herbert P. Cullen died of organic heart trouble, at his home here, at 6:30 a. m. to-day. He was 56 years old.

He is survived by a wife and one child, the latter a daughter eight or nine years old; by three brothers, Geo. W. Cullen, Island; John S. Cullen, Livermore; R. Cullen, Owensboro, and one sister, Mrs. Ves Kelly, Oakton, Ky.

The funeral will take place Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the residence, the service being conducted by Rev. W. H. Hickerson and Rev. O. M. Shultz. The interment will be in Oak Hill cemetery.

Mr. Cullen resided in Daviess county prior to coming to Livermore, and was engaged with one of his brothers in the mercantile business at Ensor. He also resided at Lewisport, Hancock county.

REPUBLICANS TO MEET AGAIN IN BEER GARDEN

Louisville, Ky., Feb. 24.—Phoenix Hill Park will be the scene of the Republican convention to be held in Louisville, April 10. This decision was reached to-day between Secretary Alvis S. Bennett and Charles L. Scholl, representing the Republican committee, and Denney B. Goode, representing the Louisville convention and Publicity League.

The park was reserved for April 10 and 11, so that it will be available in case the convention continues two days.

THE NEW MANSION ON GROUNDS NEAR CAPITOL

Frankfort, Ky., Feb. 24.—At a meeting of the commissioners of the Sinking Fund, held to-day in the office of the Governor, the following resolution was adopted:

"That the architects be requested to make statistics for the new Governor's mansion on the site located on northwest corner of the Capitol grounds and present the same to the commission on the 6th day of March for the purpose of enabling the commissioners to employ an architect and that the chairman of the board notify the architects."

This is taken to mean that the commission has determined to build the mansion, stable and servants' quarters all on the Capitol grounds.

One steamer sank and twenty-two ships went ashore during the heavy gale along the Atlantic Coast Wednesday night.

IN HOTEL WITH A YOUNG WOMAN

Police Arrest President of Female College.

TRUSTEES DISMISS OFFICIAL

On Learning the Facts—He Admits His Guilt and Is Penitent.

HIS WIFE MAY STAND BY HIM

Atlanta, Ga., Feb. 24.—Fallen from the presidency of a large female college to a cell in the police station on the charge of improper conduct—this is the panoramic change in life that has been the fate of W. F. Brown, of Lagrange, Ga., head of the Southern Female College, one of the oldest institutions for girls in the South.

Before Judge Broyles this afternoon, President Brown pleaded guilty to the charge of taking Pauline Reid, a pretty 19-year-old pupil of the college, to an Atlanta hotel and registering there with her as husband and wife. Brown was heavily fined on the charge of improper conduct and was bound over to the States courts. The girl was released with a reprimand.

The college president and the girl were arrested in a room in the hotel this morning. The girl was returning to the college at Lagrange from Chipley, Ga., where she had been on a short visit to her parents, and President Brown met her in Atlanta by previous engagement and took her to the hotel.

An Atlanta woman, who saw Brown and the girl, suspected something was wrong and notified the police, who raided the room and found the college president and the girl in a room.

Taken to the police station, President Brown admitted his guilt and took the blame upon himself. He says he was carried away by impulse and forgot his wife and three children in Lagrange. He declared he would go at once before the board of trustees of the college and resign the presidency.

"But your wife?" he was asked. "Ah, my wife will stand by me in this sad fall," he answered. "She will forgive when she knows how penitent I am. A new start in life I will have to take now, but, thank God, I have a faithful wife to keep me straight. Guess I've risen too fast. We'll just start at the bottom and rise again."

Pauline Reid, the girl in the case, is a daughter of a wealthy and socially prominent family in West-Georgia.

Brown has been president of Lagrange College for four years and has been prominent in educational and church matters. He is about 35 years old. Advice from Lagrange to-night state the trustees met and dismissed Brown. The feeling there against Brown is bitter and it is said it will not be safe for him to return.

Daviess Circuit Court.

The five-weeks term of the Daviess Circuit Court opened Monday. Judge Birkhead will consume the first week in calling the docket and setting for trial cases in which there is an issue. The jury trials will begin Monday, March 4, and as there are not very many big cases on the docket, the court will probably wind up this feature of the work in 10 days. Judge Birkhead expects to finish up the civil term in less than four weeks.

REPUBLICANS ARE SPLIT WIDE OPEN

After the Recent Speech of Col. Roosevelt.

DOLLAR WITH STRING TO IT

Illustrates His Argument—
He Stands for Nothing Unconditionally.

CALEB POWERS IN QUANDARY

Washington, Feb. 23.—No Kentucky Republicans and few Democrats would consent to being interviewed to-day on Colonel Roosevelt's Columbus speech. Representatives John W. Langley and Caleb Powers begged to be excused; Senator Bradley said he would say nothing until he had read the speech in full.

"Did you ever hear of the old trick of the silver dollar with a hole in its middle and a string tied through it?" demanded Representative Harvey Helm. "You reached out for the money, and it was jerked back, and you bruised your hands. That's the Roosevelt speech. It's all false guarantees. He stands for nothing unconditionally. There's a string tied to everything he says. He's for the initiative and referendum—under certain conditions. He's for the recall—under some circumstances. This is to catch the West. The West knows about the initiative, referendum and recall."

"But the Colonel says something else far more important. Monopolies are here to stay, he said, and he's for Government regulation of them. The West doesn't know much about this, and passes it over. But Mr. Morgan and Mr. Perkins and Mr. Carnegie and Mr. Gary know all about it. These are their views, expressed before the Stanley committee and elsewhere. The Colonel, apparently making a radical speech, gobbled in the West, but, more important, he lined up Wall street behind him."

Representative A. O. Stanley said: "The speech splits the Republican party wider open than ever, if that is possible."

In declining to openly express himself about the speech, Caleb Powers betrayed nothing of the battle raging within him. He is wrestling with the problem of whether to abandon his laissez-faire policy and come out boldly for Taft or Roosevelt in the Eleventh district. In a recent statement, he said that, while he is for Taft, he will not take off his coat. Powerful influences have been at work on him, urging that he do take off his coat for the President. He has been told that if he remains passive, he is certain to be defeated for renomination, while, in making a fight for Taft, he may redeem himself.

TAFT SENTIMENT STRONG IN THE THIRD DISTRICT

Bowling Green, Feb. 24.—Republican politicians from the Third Congressional District, who came here to attend the District Committee meeting, say that the sentiment of the district was for Taft, and that the two delegates chosen by the district convention to be held here on April will go to Chicago instructed to vote for the President. They gave as an illustration of this that the three Republican papers of the district, the Glasgow Republican, the Morgantown Republican and the Greenville Sentinel, have already declared for his nomination.

W. D. Gilliam, of Allen, the only announced candidate for elector, is an out-and-out Taft man. All three of the announced candidates for delegate, Raleigh Keown, of Butler, and W. D. Blackwell and T. J. Sparks, of Muhlenberg, are all Taft men.

In this county the Taft forces are being led by Postmaster Doors and Col. R. L. Mottley, while the Roosevelt interests are being looked after by Circuit Judge Moss and Master Commissioner Speck.

THE DEATH SENTENCE WAS GIVEN RICHARDSON

Bardwell, Ky., Feb. 24.—Threats of mob violence and lynching ceased here this afternoon when Willard Richardson was found guilty and sentenced to death for the murder of John Violet, a prominent farmer, at Milburn, last Saturday. The jury was out twenty minutes.

Richardson, who is only 25 years old, confessed that, while drunk, he shot and killed Violet without provocation. Violet's young son was with him at the time of the shooting and, grappling with Richardson, threw him to the ground and held him until officers arrived.

Circumstances attending the killing aroused Violet's friends, and lynch talk was generally indulged in until the speedy trial and conviction to-day. The trial began at 9 o'clock this morning and the verdict was returned at 3 o'clock this afternoon. Richardson was sentenced to be electrocuted April 19.

INNOCENT MAN SPENT THIRTEEN YEARS IN PRISON

Des Moines, Ia., Feb. 24.—After maintaining silence for 13 years, C. F. Ryerson, a street car conductor, to-day told the Board of Parole that Mabel Schofield rode on his car to the vicinity of the Des Moines river and then walked in the direction of the stream the day before her body was found in the water.

Thirteen years ago Charlie Thomas was given a life sentence for her murder and he has been in prison ever since. Ryerson said he was a newcomer to Des Moines at the time and did not want to get himself mixed up with the case.

It is also claimed the poison register of a drug store was tampered with just before the trial.

A petition for parole, headed by the name of Senator A. B. Cummins, has been presented.

"AUNT" NANCY MOSELEY IS DEAD AT CLEOPATRA

Mrs. Nancy Moseley, one of the oldest and most highly respected old women of McLean county, died of infirmities incident to old age Saturday afternoon at 4 o'clock at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Elizabeth Leachman, near Cleopatra. At the time of her death Mrs. Moseley was 90 years of age, having been born September 8, 1821. She was married to Robert C. Moseley June 11, 1837, and resided in Calhoun until the death of her husband, which was about 14 years ago. Since that time Mrs. Moseley has resided with her daughter, Mrs. Leachman, near Cleopatra.

Mrs. Moseley is survived by five children and three grandchildren. They are Mrs. Thornton Goode, of Glenville, Mrs. Elizabeth Leachman and Mrs. Minerva Lytle, of Cleopatra, Mrs. George Goode and William T. Moseley, of Gainesville, Fla. Mrs. Ben J. Head, Mrs. Price Gibson and Mrs. James H. Davis, of Owensboro, are the grandchildren.

Mrs. Moseley had a great many friends in Daviess and McLean counties, and was noted for her many good deeds of charity.

MISSOURI DELEGATES FOR CLARK TO THE LAST

Joplin, Mo., Feb. 23.—As was prearranged in conferences among the leaders, directed chiefly by Senator Stone, who, despite his age, remained at the task most of the night, Missouri Democrats in State Convention here this afternoon named eight delegates at large, each with one-half vote, to the National Convention at Baltimore and instructed them to vote for Champ Clark for the Presidential nomination on every ballot taken. Edward F. Goltra, the St. Louis millionaire, was re-elected by acclamation as National Committeeman.

The President of the United States draws a salary of $75,000 per year, and is allowed $25,000 additional for traveling expenses.

CONGRESSMEN AS DELEGATES

To Baltimore—Are Very Desirous of Job.

JOHNSON WANTS A PRIVATE

Citizen to Go in His Place
—Ollie James from State-at-Large.

TARIFF A CAMPAIGN SLOGAN

Washington, Feb. 24.—If the Kentucky Democrats in the House adhere to their present mental attitudes, nearly all of them will be receptive candidates for delegations to the Baltimore convention in June. Representative Ben Johnson is excepted from this list, it being reliably understood that he will urge that a private citizen from the Fourth district be given the honor, and if he goes to Baltimore at all, he will attend the convention as a spectator. Representative W. J. Fields has not been in Washington for some weeks, owing to a long illness, and his views on the subject are not known.

But it is generally known here that most all Kentucky Representatives feel that they are peculiarly entitled to go to Baltimore as delegates. They say that the House, being the only natural political branch in control of Democrats, is largely responsible, by reason of its sensible and efficient record, for the happy condition of things in Democracy. This fact is generally admitted, they say. They contend—most of them do—that President Taft is certain to be renominated, which will make the tariff a vital issue in the next campaign. All tariff measures must originate in the House, and its members therefore are the better fitted for service as National Convention delegates.

"The House took what was left of the Democratic party after 1908," said one of the Kentucky Democrats to-day, "and nursed it carefully and well. From a puny, emaciated invalid, it has been restored by the House to manly stature, to victorious vigor, and it is now able to command success. Therefore, we who watched by the sick bed, took our turn at nursing and doctoring and assumed responsibility for the recovery of the patient, feel that we ought to be permitted to buckle on our armor at Baltimore before he goes into battle. At least I do."

Other members of the delegation spoke in this general strain, although none other put the case so poetically.

Gossip here is that Representative Ollie James will be one of the delegates at large from Kentucky, and that sentiment in their districts already prevails to send Representatives A. O. Stanley, R. Y. Thomas, Jr., Swager Shirley, Arthur B. Rouse, J. Campbell Cantrill and Harvey Helm as delegates or alternates to Baltimore. Ben Johnson, it is believed here, is the real choice of his district for a delegate-ship, but when his views are known, in accordance with his wishes, the honor will be given to another.

The Kentucky delegate situation is typical of that the country over. With the tariff predominant as the campaign issue, it is already apparent that more members of Congress will sit in the convention and in its important committees than for many recent years. Only the fact that Representative Oscar Underwood and Speaker Champ Clark are mentioned for the Presidency keeps their States from sending them at the heads of delegations, where both would be potent factors in drafting the platform. From Nebraska the word comes that Col. Bryan will head the delegation of that State, and every indication is that on the armor floor, instead of in the galleries, will be found the most noted leaders of Democracy.

All persons having claims against the estate of Silas H. Bolling, deceased, are hereby notified to present them, properly proven, to me at my office in Beaver Dam, Ky., on or before the 16th day of April, 1912, or they will be forever barred.

RURAL SCHOOL SOCIAL CENTERS

Present Fine Opportunity for Learning

AND SUPERIOR ADVANTAGES

For Advancement—Draw Attention Away From the Big Cities.

FIVE TOPICS ALWAYS AT HAND

While many societies are being founded to exploit the "Back to the Farm" movement, the gravest problem confronting the farmer is how to keep young people on the farm.

The lure of the city is felt even in the remotest rural communities. All young people are pleasure-loving. They demand recreation, and if opportunities for social enjoyment do not present themselves in their own community, they are bound to seek them afar.

The opportunity for helpful recreation and enjoyment presents itself in the new School Social Center movement.

In by-gone days, the rural schools provided entertainment for the community in the form of spelling-bees, singing-schools, etc. Gradually these recreations died out, and there sprang up lyceums and literary societies, both of which were helpful and inspiring to the young, even though the oratory was crude, and the knowledge of subjects rather superficial.

To-day the lyceum is a thing of the past, and the country school-house usually stands desolate and deserted, during the long winter evenings, and through the long months of vacation.

Farm children should be given the most careful and judicious training in the public schools. This, however, is far from being the rule. In many cases the teachers themselves lack proper training, and the equipment is of the poorest kind. Every rural school should be provided with a good library for the benefit of both the school and the community.

The acquisition of knowledge from books is necessary, but this book-knowledge does not in itself constitute an education; far from it. We need an educational system which fits a boy or girl for more knowledge; makes civic duty plain, and teaches him or her the fundamental principles of universal brotherhood.

At present a very large per cent of the business and professional men, including statesmen, especially through the South and West, are men who were reared on the farm, or came from the workshops of towns and villages. The indications are that a very large per cent of the leaders of the future will come from the same sources. Therefore it is necessary that the children in the rural schools should receive better training than is being given them now.

Many of the ablest men of to-day have been hampered by lack of early training, and nothing can take the place of this lost training. If the State wants its citizens to be successful, prosperous, and happy in the future it must no longer neglect the early training of those who are to bring about the conditions which will accomplish the desired results.

Our best teachers should be sent to the rural schools; earnest, progressive men and women, capable of introducing into the work qualities which will arouse the young people's enthusiasm and set them thinking and investigating along new lines of endeavor.

The country presents ideal conditions for the study of nature, and yet how many children are taught the real fundamental facts of nature, unfolding themselves all about them? The perennial miracle of plant life is so common, and so constantly before them, that they fail to see or take note of it. An intelligent presentation of this wonderful fact of resurrected life, will arouse in the minds of the children new lines of thought, and send them forth with eager feet, to make new discoveries.

The attention of the children should be directed to the wise provision made by trees and hardy plants for the coming of winter, as, at the first hint of the changing season, they begin to store up carbon, withdrawing from the leaves what the tree needs for its support during the winter's cold, and, by the withdrawal of the sap, hardening and protecting the limbs and branches.

Such study naturally leads to the study of fowls, and nature's provision for their protection during the winter months, as illustrated by the migration of birds, etc. The topics are endless. Thus the children may be taught to realize that the whole universe is a great, living, thinking, feeling thing—and back of it all is the One Life, throbbing and pulsing through it.

With intelligent thought, rightly presented, the farm can be shown to be such a wonderful store-house of marvelous things, that the boys and girls will forget the cities with their glittering allurements, in their intense interest in things right at hand.

The School Social Center presents the opportunity. The school-rooms should be thrown open for all kinds of meetings of an uplifting character, including social functions, holiday celebrations, lectures, musicals, etc.

Truly opportunity is knocking at the door of the Rural School Social Center. Will the farmers realize the fact, and grasp it?

A SOUTHERN CANDIDATE FOR THE PRESIDENCY

If the South wants the Presidential candidate, why does she not pick out some Democrat who represents the progressive Democracy and present him to the country? The North has no objection to a southern man but it would object, to a Wall street man residing in the South or in any other section. The South is full of big men; there is scarcely a State in the South which does not contain men of Presidential size. Why are these overlooked and only those mentioned who are aristocratic or plutocratic in sympathy? There is Hoke Smith, for instance; he has a national reputation. He was in Cleveland's cabinet and resigned to support the ticket in 1896. He has been elected Governor twice and is now Senator. He is a reformer with courage enough to fight a whole regiment of Wall street mercenaries. What's the matter with Smith?

Then, there is Senator James, of Kentucky, one of the ablest and bravest reformers at Washington. He is one of the most eloquent campaign orators in the country. He would be a million votes stronger than Underwood.

Governor Campbell, of Texas, would make a splendid President and a popular candidate, too. He has been tested and has met every responsibility.

These are only a few—their names are legion. Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina, Kentucky, Tennessee—in fact, all the States of the southland have men who won distinction at home by championing the rights of the people. Why not select one of these? Why is it that no man east, west or south can be considered unless he has the brand of New York plunder-bund on him? It is simply because a subsidized or terrorized press magnifies the ability and availability of every betrayer of the masses and belittles every public man who speaks out against the exploitation of the common people.—[Bryan's Commoner.]

First La Grippe, Then Bronchitis.

Such was the case with Mrs. W. S. Bailey, McCreary, Ky. "My wife was taken down with a severe attack of la grippe, which ran into bronchitis. She coughed as though she had consumption and could not sleep at night. The doctor's medicine gave her no relief and I was advised to try Foley's Honey and Tar Compound. The first bottle gave her so much relief that she continued using it and three bottles effected a permanent cure." Mr. W. S. Bailey says he is prepared to answer all inquiries promptly. FATHER OF 32 CHILDREN DEAD AT THE AGE OF 70

John W. Guy, 79 years old, the father of 32 children, died at his home near Melfa, Va., to-day after a lingering illness.

Mr. Guy was married three times. His first wife was Mary Ann Redfield, both being in their twenty-second year. To this union seven children were born. His second marriage was with Margaret Elizabeth Ayres, 21 years old, and to this union 18 children were born. Lola Crockett, 16 years old, became his last bride when he was in his sixty-fifth year. To this union seven children were born.

Of Mr. Guy's 32 children, 21 sons and 11 daughters, 23 are still alive, the oldest, a son, being 56 years old. All of his sons are the fathers of large families.

He Won't Limp Now.

No more limping for Tom Moore, of Cochran, Ga. "I had a bad sore on my instep that nothing seemed to help till I used Bucklen's Arnica Salve," he writes, "but this wonderful healer soon cured me." Heals old, running sores, ulcers, boils, burns, cuts, bruises, eczema or piles. Try it. Only 25 cents at James H. Williams.

RESPONSIBILITY OF FIRST VOTER

As He Begins, So He Is Likely to Continue.

THERE ARE TWO GREAT PARTY

Organizations in the United States—Principles They Are Standing For.

YOUNG MAN, HOW STAND YOU?

Young man, great responsibility attaches to your first vote. As you begin, so you are likely to continue. The momentum that carries you into a party at the beginning of your political life is apt to keep you in that party unless some convulsion shakes you out of it. Start right, and in order that you may start right, examine the principles of the parties and the policies which they advocate.

There are two great party organizations in the United States, one more than fifty years old, and the other more than a century old. The Republican party has been in power almost uninterruptedly for more than half a century, and under its reign abuses have grown up which threaten the perpetuity of the Government and endanger our civilization. So great are these abuses that Republican reformers are now pointing out that something must be done—and what can be done? The first thing is to undo the things that have been done, and the party to undo these abuses is not the party which has done them, but the party which has protested against these abuses and pointed out remedies.

The Republican party has turned the taxing power over to private individuals; it has allowed monopolies to grow up and assume control of the industries of the country by granting privileges by law and by giving immunity to the large violators of the law; the Republican party has permitted the fortunes of the predatory rich to become so large that government is corrupted, politics debauched, and business polluted.

The Democratic party proposes to withdraw the taxing power from private hands, to so legislate as to make a private monopoly impossible, and to enforce the law without discrimination. It proposes to protect legitimate wealth and punish those who attempt to plunder the public for private gain. On which side do you stand, young man? Are you with the masses in their effort to restore the Government to its old foundation and make it a Government of the people, for the people and by the people, or are you with the Republican leaders in their effort to perpetuate the party in power?

AVOID HARSH DRUGS.

Many Cathartics Tend to Cause
Injury to the Bowels.

If you are subject to constipation, you should avoid strong drugs and cathartics. They only give temporary relief and their reaction is harmful and sometimes more annoying than constipation. They in no way effect a cure and their tendency is to weaken the already weak organs with which they come in contact.

We honestly believe that we have the best constipation treatment ever devised. Our faith in it is so strong that we sell it on the positive guarantee that it shall not cost the user a cent if it does not give entire satisfaction. This preparation is called Rexall Orderlies. These are prompt, soothing and most effective in action. They are made of a recent chemical discovery. Their principal ingredient is odorless, tasteless, and colorless. Combined with other well known ingredients, long established for their usefulness in the treatment of constipation, it forms a tablet which is eaten just like candy. They may be taken at any time, either day or night, without fear of their causing any inconvenience whatever. They do not gripe, purge, nor cause nausea. They act without causing any pain or excessive looseness of the bowels. They are ideal for children, weak, delicate persons, and aged people, as well as for the most hearty person.

They come in three size packages, 12 tablets, 10 cents; 36 tablets, 25 cents; 80 tablets, 50 cents. Remember, you can obtain them only at our store—The Rexall Store—James H. Williams, 214 Main street, Hartford, Ky.

power by selling immunity in return for campaign contributions?

There are always two parties in the country, and one is necessarily nearer to the people than the other. In this country the Democratic party is nearer to the people than the Republican party. Its leaders have more faith in the people and are more anxious to keep the Government under the control of the people. Take the election of United States Senators by the people as a test. The Democrats want to give to the voters a chance to elect and to control their representatives in the United States Senate. The Democratic party in the House of Representatives passed the first resolution for the submission of the necessary constitutional amendment. They did this eight years before any Republican Congress did it. The Democratic party has twice demanded this reform in its national platform. The Republican party has not done so. Why do Democratic leaders insist upon this reform and Republican leaders oppose it? There can be but one answer—the Democratic party is nearer to the people than the Republican party. Young man, will you stand with the people or against them?

The answer to this question affects your country. If you are with the people, your influence, be it great or small, will hasten their victory. But while in the first instance it is your country that you may gain or lose by your action, you must remember that in the long run your own position in politics will depend upon your conduct. You can not fool the people always. You may lead them astray if you dare, but they will punish you when they find you out. You may work for the people without their recognizing it at first, but you can trust them to discover the character of your work and to reward you accordingly.—[Bryan's Commoner.]

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

CALLING FOR A SHOWDOWN

In the Matter Affecting County Expenses.

THE TAXPAYERS OF DAVIESS

County Want to Know How Their Road Money Is Being Spent.

A VERY IMPORTANT MATTER

The following from the Courier-Journal in regard to a meeting of the taxpayers of Daviess county, held at Owensboro, ought to make good reading for Ohio county citizens and call their attention to the fact that the financial condition of our county has not been published since the time whence the mind of man runneth not to the contrary, although there is on the statutes a law requiring the publication of same every year, and prescribing a heavy penalty for failure to do so. The Courier-Journal says:

"Some of the taxpayers in Daviess county are calling for a showdown as to how the road funds are being expended. A meeting was held in Owensboro a few days ago at which there was a general discussion followed by the adoption of a series of resolutions. Some remarkable statements are made in the preamble to the resolutions. It is asserted that taxes are becoming yearly more burdensome, 'having increased more than 300 per cent, within the last ten years,' that the expenditure on dirt roads alone now amounts to more than the whole revenue of the county ten years ago; that 'the sum of $308,435.75 has been expended by Daviess county on its highways within the four years next preceding April, 1911,' that the improvements have not been in keeping with the expenditure, and that there has been practically no publicity with regard to the road and bridge disbursements. Assuming these statements to be true, the taxpayers are not without provocation for holding mass-meetings.

Having set forth their grievances, the taxpayers request that the Fiscal Court have a complete report made and published, 'showing an itemized statement of the work done on the highways each year, covering at least four years, the cost of same and to whom the money was paid and by whom the work was done; the cost of each mile of rock road built each year, who constructed same, to whom the money was paid; also the cost each year of each bridge and abutment thereto, the name of the contractor and how the work was done, how the work was let out and how and to whom the money was paid out of the treasury and by whom the work was accepted.'

A further demand is made that all bridges and culverts to be built by the county shall be let out publicly to the lowest and best bidder and that all road and bridge lettings shall be advertised. Addi-

Many a Hartford Reader Will Feel

Grateful for This Information.

When your back gives out; Becomes lame, weak or aching; When urinary troubles set in, Your kidneys may be "in a bad way."

Don't delay—use Doan's Kidney Pills. Here is good evidence of their worth:

W. A. Toombs, contractor and builder, Clark street, Earlinton, Ky., says: "It is a pleasure for me to publicly acknowledge the benefit I have derived from Doan's Kidney Pills. This remedy cured me of kidney disease in a remarkably short time after other preparations had failed to even give me relief. My back was so lame and sore that I could scarcely get about and I was also prevented from obtaining a good night's rest by too frequent passages of the kidney secretions, which showed that my kidneys needed attention. I was finally advised to try Doan's Kidney Pills and I procured a supply. I was completely cured, and am glad to give Doan's Kidney Pills the credit for my present good health."

tional resolutions request the passage by the State Legislature of a uniform accounting law and provide for the appointment of a taxpayers' committee of three for the purpose of making an investigation of road expenditures and "procuring counsel to protect the people's interests in these matters."

No one in the Owensboro convention made any direct charge of graft and one of the speakers expressed the opinion that the county officials would welcome an investigation. In any state of case, an inquiry of the kind will do no harm and is likely to do some good. It has been observed that "everybody's business is nobody's business," and the saying holds good to a large extent in the fiscal affairs of every county. There is not enough publicity as to county expenditures, and as a rule the taxpayers are slow to demand it or to make any effort whatever to find out how their money is being spent. It is undeniably true that millions of dollars are being wasted in Kentucky on poor roads and bridges. As to whether money is being spent to poor advantage in Daviess county, that is a question for the taxpayers to decide. And it is a question which the taxpayers in every county might well consider as applied to their own bailiwick.

ILLUSTRATES THE "STORY OF THE EXTRA SESSION"

Congressman Ebenezer J. Hill, standpat protectionist of Connecticut, made a speech in the House recently which he considered a gem. He extolled the Payne-Aldrich law to the skies, proclaiming in a loud voice that it had nothing to do with high prices. Mr. Hill thought so well of his speech that he named it "The Story of the Extra Session," and sent it broadcast, among his constituents, asking them to read it and to comment upon it. Some of the comments, however, were not what Mr. Hill expected. The following comment sent in from a resident of Stratford, Conn., for instance, must have been a severe jolt to Mr. Hill's standpat nerves:

"My wife and I came to New York by steamer, having with us seven yards of serge cloth, which was to be made into a dress for my wife. This cloth cost in London $11.90, and was declared dutiable by the customs officers. On those seven yards of cloth I was obliged to pay a double duty—a duty on the weight and a duty on the value—44 cents a pound and 55 cents ad valorem. These duties amounted to $9.24, making the cost of the $11.90 article, $21.14.

"A tax like this is unjust and excessive, and cannot be defended. If this is a sample of the provisions of the present tariff law, I am not surprised at the universal dissatisfaction that prevails with regard to it, and I hope the Democrats will succeed in changing this law with some regard for the interest of the consumers."

"ECONOMY BEN" THE WATCHDOG OF U.S. TREASURY

"There Stands a Man!"

The following tribute to the faithfulness of Congressman Ben Johnson was written by Mr. J. Kelly South, a newspaper and magazine writer of note, and has been printed in many of the leading dailies of the country:

The people should know and remember the noble fight which Ben Johnson, from the little town of Bardstown, Ky., has been making in the committee and on the floor of the house during the past two weeks in an almost vain effort to throttle graft and lessen in some small degree at least the reckless and useless expenditure of the public money. The writer never knew Chairman Johnson until he saw him in the "pit" grappling single-handed and alone with the howling treasury hogs. Though alone and against merciless odds, he realized his cause to be right and his purpose true—nor did he fail to give them battle royal.

No better evidence of the fight he made is to be had than from the war-whoops, howls and yell that went up from all around and about him. Those long accustomed to nursing at the public breast beheld themselves about to be weaned and raised a wild and hideous wail. Others who for years had boldly and red-handedly robbed the public treasury of the people's money raved against—"over ardent economy," "peanut politics," "anarchist," etc., etc. Members of Johnson's worthy committee, poor wenches, are whooped into swearing they will resign unless he relents and permits unhindered the annual outpour of the people's millions without word or question as to who, why or where the recipients thereof.

He is reminded of the fact that Bardstown, his home, is but a little village in the road, requiring only a few hundred dollars annually, while the nation's capital must have her tens of millions, but Johnson retorts that cities are made up of people, and those of Bardstown are just as worthy and princely as the dwellers in any capital on earth.

Some extracts from Mr. Johnson's speech are worthy of note. I quote the following:

"The printed report of the school board for this city (Washington) brings the delightful information that the people's money is spent to teach the young men and young ladies—black and white—from 6 to 66 years—to 'trip the light fantastic toe.'"

"In the District of Columbia the pupils have cooking schools. The teachers give the public money to little children, send them to market and have them taught how to buy. When they have had this lesson in buying, they take, or have sent, what they have bought to the school. Then it is served in a five course 'festible.' I recently saw one of these menu cards. It had ice cream on it. I asked the principal of the school—he was a colored man—whether the children made the ice cream or bought it. He said they bought it already frozen, but he could not tell me how much teaching it required to have the children and their invited guests to learn how to eat it. But that is of little interest to your constituents or mine. All they have to do is work hard 16 hours of the 24 to get the money to pay for it all."

"They teach millinery in the public schools here. The teacher gives instructions how to trim the hats. When a girl has trimmed one to suit her new dress, it is trimmed; it cannot be trimmed any more; it is useless to the government, so the girl is permitted just to run along home with it. If she wants to trim another, she does so; it is of no use to Uncle Sam, and the girl is told 'just to run along home with it and give it to one of the family.'"

"A number of dentists are employed to do dental work for nearly 60,000 school children in Washington, these children ranging in age from 6 to 36 years, some of them unnaturalized foreigners. But the people back in Kentucky and Tennessee have nothing to do with this out pay one-half the bills."

"The ashes are hauled away free from every man's back yard in Washington. But the taxpayer oack in the states has nothing to do with that; all he has to do is to pay for the hauling."

"The poor man in the different states in the Union buys school books for his own children and then contributes toward the purchase of the school books for the children of the millionaire in Washington."

"A great howl goes up in Washington against the committee which would not this year build two new school houses at a cost of $1,250,000. I am 'incompetent' in their eyes because I stand between the people in an effort to stop raids on the public treasury. Because I object to giving away the real estate owned by the United States I am 'narrow.' Because I object to having the government go into the construction business for the street car companies, I am 'wrong.' Because I object to seeing one gang of men laying streets, followed in a short time by another gang tearing them up, I am not 'progressive.' Because I wish the homeless renter should be permitted to pay as small a rate of taxation as his landlord, then I am an 'anarchist,' etc., etc."

Mr. Johnson likened the District of Columbia to a "big, fat, chubby boy" in the following anecdote:

"I have seen that boy. I met him on the highway not long ago. Before I saw him, I met a woman running down the road in great haste. She asked no protection, seemed in no great danger, but fled on. At a curve in the road I met a great, big, fat, chubby boy of 16 or 17, with curls hanging down his back and perspiration rolling down his face. He ran up and said: 'Mister, did you meet a woman up the road ahead of me?' I said I did. (Description, etc.) 'Well, I want to catch her. Will you let me have your horse and buggy?' I said: 'I do not know about that. First tell me what you want with her and why.' 'Well,' he said, 'that is my mammy and she is trying to wean me, and I swear I do not intend to let her do it.'"

Mr. Editor, these things are written in the hope that attention may be drawn to the worthy though seemingly hopeless effort which Ben Johnson has been making in the house to bring about a businesslike, economical administration of public affairs. The people of the state and the great struggling masses of the people of other states know nothing of what is being done either in the national congress or their state legislatures. Either there must come an awakening, and with it reform, or anon the day of anarchy will begin to dawn on the American people.

Would that every Kentuckian, at least, might read the speech of Ben Johnson, made on the floor of the house Jan. 22, 1912, from which the above quotations are taken. He would be wiser, indeed—somewhat astounded perhaps, and yet inspired with such appreciation of the "Bardstown Bulldog" that he would gladly rise up, a modern Antony, and say to all the world, "There stands a man."

Why Jake Was Startled.

Undertaker Peter Perkins was driving a loaded spring wagon containing a coffin into town. Miranda Higgins, the village spinster, long, lean and bony, hailed him and asked for a lift to town.

"Sorry, there's no room up here on the seat as I have a box of eggs here," Miranda," he answered. Whereupon she asked if he'd mind her sitting on the coffin. He said no, not if she didn't.

As they drove past the corner store, Jake Johnson, half intoxicated, caught sight of them and called excitedly: "Hey, Pete! Pete, I say. Look, the corpse is out!"

A Good Idea.

Congressman Sisson, of Mississippi, has introduced a bill putting a tax upon concealed weapons and estimates that it would add two millions a year to the nation's revenue. A good idea; two millions taken from the necessities of life and laid upon the luxuries, would be in line with Democratic promises.—Bryan's Commoner.

VOICE OF TRUSTS GIVES WARNING

Of Echoes of the French Revolution.

ROOSEVELT AND THE TARIFF

His Ideas on the Subject Were Suppressed—A Stand-patter's Wail.

FACTS ABOUT CONTRIBUTIONS

(By C. H. Tavenner.)

Washington, Feb. 24.—Judge Gary, head of the Steel Trust, attended a banquet in New York. The food was good; the lights were bright; the silver shimmered; the wine sparkled; the cigars added a final completeness to the happiness of all present. When it came Judge Gary's turn to speak, his mind was saturated with benevolence, and his thoughts turned to the welfare of the republic, and the sufferings of working-men. Listen to him:

"Things are being said nowadays that are already akin to the things that were said just prior to the French Revolution. Unless the great corporations, capitalists, and men of large wealth and power take a leading part in the amelioration of conditions, there will be changes made later by the mob."

The newspapers next day told the story of the banquet, and of Judge Gary's speech, and the same newspapers chronicled the testimony of witnesses before the Stanley committee. These witnesses told how the Steel Trust forces men to work 12 hours a day, 7 days a week, for wages which compel them to live like swine—a condition which Judge Gary could ameliorate with a few strokes of the pen.

The banquet hall is dark. The diners are gone. The tables are stripped of their linen and viands. And somewhere in that deserted room, shrunken so small that the servants failed to see it when they swept out the crumbs, is Judge Gary's Beautiful Altruism.

Roosevelt and the Tariff.

Just once in his life Theodore Roosevelt expressed an opinion on the tariff. That is; he almost expressed an opinion. In one of his messages he wrote this sentence:

"In a later message I shall discuss the tariff."

A preliminary draft of this message fell into the hands of Senators Aldrich and Lodge and Speaker Cannon. Immediately they rushed to the White House. Presto! when the message finally was submitted to Congress, it contained no reference to the tariff.

Aside from that, no living man can point to a written or spoken opinion that Mr. Roosevelt ever expressed on the tariff question.

A Stand-Patter's Wail.

The Senate was discussing a bill for the establishment of a Children's Bureau in the Department of Congress and Labor. Senator Borah, author of the bill, had explained how the huge corporations were exploiting little children, crushing them, with hard toil, while they were yet of tender years. He explained that the bill contemplated no interference with the proper relation of parents toward their own children, and that its purpose was merely to provide for the collection of statistics and information on which the separate States and municipalities could base a solution of the child welfare problem.

"In the great cities," concluded Senator Borah, "little children fester and swelter and starve and steal and die by the thousands. This bill is designed to aid them."

Then up rose Senator Heyburn, standpatter, and for two hours the Senate listened to his complaints about the "unconstitutionality" of the bill. His final argument was that Abraham Lincoln was a poor boy.

Some Bald Facts.

The Republican campaign fund in 1908 amounted to $1,665,518.27. The Democratic fund was $622,644.27. The Republicans had more than a million in excess of the Democrats.

The number who contributed to the Republican fund was 12,230, and to the Democratic fund, 74,000. In other words, the number of contributors to the Democratic fund was six times greater, and their contributions amounted to a million dollars less. The contributors to the Republican fund, as a rule, were interested in legislation, the money coming from such men as J. Pierpont Morgan, Charles P. Taft, Andrew Carnegie, Charles M. Schwab, John Jacob Astor and the heads of the various woolen mills who desired the passage of the Payne-Aldrich law, together with donations from the Wall street banks, railroad magnates, and individuals representing the tariff trusts.

The contributors to the Democratic fund were not personally interested in legislation, but in principles.

The contributions to the Republican fund ranged from $110,000 downward, while contributions to the Democratic fund ranged from $5,000 downward.

SPECIAL NOTICE

In regard to
OBITUARIES, RESOLUTIONS
OF RESPECT, &c.

The Hartford Herald has adopted a new rule in regard to Obituaries, Resolutions of Respect, Cards of Thanks, &c., whether written at the behest of lodges, churches or individuals, and that is, we shall charge at the rate of two cents per line for all such articles, except obituary poetry, which will be one cent per word, straight. This is the smallest rate we charge for anything and is only one-fifth of our regular rate. The amount, in cash or stamps, must accompany each article, or it will not be printed. Six words average a line in ordinary reading and every separate character or initial letter counts as a word. The heading and the signature both count one line each, even if they are only a word or two. All obituary poetry, straight through, one cent per word. Contributors please remember.

SICKLY CHILD

Made Well By Vinol—Letters from a Grateful Mother

New Haven, Conn.—"My little girl, ever since her birth, was frail and sickly and nothing seemed to do her any good until we tried your cod liver and iron tonic, Vinol. As soon as she commenced to take it, I noticed an improvement in her health and appearance. She has now taken three bottles of Vinol, and from the good it has done her I can say it will do all you claim for it in building up and strengthening frail and delicate children." (Name furnished on request.)

Another mother of Chicago, Ill., writes: "I can not say too much in praise of Vinol for delicate, ailing children."

We ask every mother of a frail, sickly or ailing child in this vicinity to try Vinol on our agreement to return their money if it does not do all we claim.

It is said that George Washington saying anything against him, anyhow?

It is said that the name "China" is to lose its identity and pass into empire. Chinaware, however, will still be used.

The Owensboro Inquirer is agitating the question of draining the Panther Creek Valley of Daviess county before another flood comes.
A very important matter indeed.
But perhaps it will be attended to in the Arkansas Traveler fashion or like good roads are sometimes built—by talks around the fireside.

The scrap between the Taft and Roosevelt forces is getting to be something fierce. It is clearly a case between the "ins" and "outs"
—the office-holders and those who want to be. The Taft forces being in possession, have the usual "ins"
points of the law" in their favor.
But the members of the Roosevelt clan are putting up a fierce fight.

Gov. Wilson, of New Jersey, is a strong friend of the press—especially the country papers. He has good sense enough to know that the press is but the product of the people and the most closely allied with their interests. It goes without saying that this friendship is heartily reciprocated, except by the Republican press, whose editors evidently see in Wilson a strong man, inimical of their interests, and therefore they do not care to advertise his personality only in disparagement.

In a three-column, double-leaded and signed editorial, one day last week, Editor Henry Watterson began his fight against Governor Woodrow Wilson for the Democratic nomination for President. Advance copies of this editorial were sent to most of the big dailies of the country, so that the article would appear simultaneously. It seems to be merely a matter of a grudge of Mr. Watterson against Gov. Wilson, because the latter would not enter into a public controversy with the editor. The prestige and ability of Gov. Wilson can hardly be discounted by such tactics.

There can be no doubt that the Democratic party stands nearest the great common people. Its traditions and its political history show this. It was the first and only party to advocate in its national platform the election of United States Senators by popular vote. In 1908 its Presidential campaign fund of $600,000 came from 74,000 common people. The million and a half dollars campaign fund of the Republicans for that year came from only 12,000 plutocratic people, headed by managers of the big trusts.
Isn't that significant? There are other instances of Democratic commonality, but these mean something.

The Democrats of Missouri, in State Convention at Joplin last week, instructed solidly for Champ Clark. The body adopted as its official anthem the Ozark "houn"
song," the chorus of which is as follows:

"Every time I come to town
The boys keep kickin' my dawg
aroun'.
Makes no difference if he IS a houn'.
They gotta stop kickin' my dawg
aroun'."

The "houn" song was intended as the trumpet-call to the battle for justice in behalf of Democracy. It means that the plain people shall not be abused any longer when they come into the marts of trade controlled by the trusts. It applies to other sections of country besides Missouri.

THEN AND NOW.
The Hartford Republican of July 15, 1910, said:

In his defense of the direct primary law for the State of New York, Mr. Roosevelt says that the reason for its enactment is to give the people an opportunity to decide for themselves who their candidates shall be. Mr. Roosevelt should have thought of this when two years ago, by the most shameless use of public patronage and Federal office-holders, he dictated the nomination for his successor to the Presidential chair. If the people had had an opportunity to vote in a direct primary without any interference on the part of the National administration, no one doubts but what the result in that contest would have been far different and the Republican party would have been in much better condition than it is today.

And yet this same Theodore Roosevelt, who, "by the most shameless use of public patronage and Federal office-holders, dictated the nomination of his successor to the Presidential chair," is the man whom the Hartford Republican would have for President again. Is he any better" now than he was then? Wouldn't he use the same
"shameless" methods again to accomplish any sort of purpose? Has he reformed, or has the Hartford Republican simply changed its principles to suit the exigencies of the case?

Again, May 21, 1909, the Republican said:

The recent message of President Taft, which he submitted to Congress relative to the government of Porto Rico, was in very great contrast to the bombastic broadsides which President Roosevelt usually fired at Capitol Hill. The dignified, statesmanlike utterances of President Taft will no doubt be received by Congress in a very different spirit from those of his predecessor.

Ah, "bombastic." That certainly explains Mr. Roosevelt better than any word, perhaps, in the English language. And this is the same "bombastic" gentleman whom the Republican ridiculed a few years ago, that it thinks is a suitable candidate for President now.
What has caused this change of heart—this jump from denunciation and ridicule, to praise? Can anybody tell?

Congress May Quit in June.
Washington, Feb. 25.—Political activities are heating the atmosphere to such a degree that it was freely predicted to-day that Democratic leaders of the House and Republican leaders of the Senate would soon find themselves agreed that Congress could not keep up the pace beyond the middle of June.
Until now it appeared to be an accepted fact that the session would be prolonged beyond the Chicago and Baltimore conventions.

Blamed a Good Worker.
"I blamed my heart for severe distress in my left side for two years," writes W. Evans, Danville, Va., "but I know now it was indigestion, as Dr. King's New Life Pills completely cured me." Best for stomach, liver and kidney troubles, constipation, headache or debility. 25c, at James H. Williams.

For the week ended Saturday
there were 238 failures in the United States, against 305 the previous week and 228 in the like week of 1911.

70 Years with Coughs

We have had seventy years of experience with Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. This makes us have great confidence in it for coughs, colds, bronchitis, weak throats, and weak lungs. We want you to have confidence in it, as well. Ask your own doctor what experience he has had with it. He knows. Keep in close touch with him.

One of Ayer's Pills at bedtime will cause an increased flow of bile and produce a gentle laxative effect the day following.
Formula on each box. Show it to your doctor. He will understand at a glance.
Dose, one pill at bedtime, just one.

REDISTRICTING BILL APPROVED BY SENATE

There Are No Changes to Be Made in the First Six Districts.

Frankfort, Ky., Feb. 24.—Kentucky was redistricted in 11 Congressional districts to-day by the Senate, and the bill appears to have no opposition in the House.

The Congressional redistricting
bill passed by the Senate is as follows, no change being made in the first six districts:

First district—Ballard, Caldwell,
Calloway, Carlisle, Crittenden, Fulton, Graves, Hickman, Livingston, Lyon, Marshall, McCracken and Trigg.

Second district—Christian, Daviess, Hancock, Henderson, Hopkins, McLean, Union and Webster.

Third district—Allen, Butler, Barren, Edmonson, Logan, Metcalfe, Muhlenberg, Simpson, Todd and Warren.

Fourth district—Breckenridge,
Hart, LaRue, Marion, Meade, Nelson, Ohio, Taylor, Washington, Hardin, Grayson, Green and Bullitt.

Sixth district—Boone, Campbell,
Carroll, Gallatin, Grant, Kenton,
Pendleton and Trimble.

Seventh district—Bourbon, Fayette, Franklin, Henry, Lee, Oldham, Owen, Scott, Woodford, Powell,
Clark and Estill.

Eighth district—Adair, Anderson, Boyle, Casey, Garrard, Jessamine, Lincoln, Madison, Mercer, Shelby and Spencer.

Ninth district—Bracken, Barth,
Boyd, Carter, Elliott, Fleming, Greenup, Harrison, Lewis, Lawrence, Mason, Menifee, Morgan, Nicholas, Robertson, Rowan, Wolfe,
Montgomery and Breathitt.

Tenth district—Floyd, Johnson,
Knott, Letcher, Jackson, Martin,
Magoffin, Owsley, Pike and Perry.

Eleventh district—Bell, Clinton,
Cumberland, Harlan, Knox, Monroe,
Pettus, Rockcastle, Russell, Wayne,
Whitley, Laurel, Clay and Leslie.

The bill carries an emergency clause.

The Senate to-day passed the auto regulation bill by a vote of 17 to 8. This measure has been the subject of much debate during several sessions of the Senate.

INCREASE FOR TEACHERS —BILL PASSED BY HOUSE

The Kentucky House, by a vote of 61 to 4, passed the bill increasing the maximum salaries allowed teachers in rural schools from $60 to $70 a month, and that of County School Superintendents to $2,500 a year, except in counties wherein the assessed valuation of property does not exceed $1,000, 000, leaving it to the Fiscal Court in any county to determine the matter. The measure does away with "third-class certificates" for teachers, the Legislature taking the stand that unless a person can make a general average better than 65 per cent, he should not be permitted to teach.

Another feature of the bill is that provision enabling a County Board of Education to do away with the practice of paying teachers on a per capita basis, based on the number of children of school age in a district, irrespective of the average number in daily attendance upon the school. Before abolishing the practice, however, the county board must first secure the concurrence of the State Board of Education.

As originally drawn, the measure made instruction in agriculture compulsory in the schools, but that section was killed.

UNDERWOOD CANDIDATE FOR THE PRESIDENCY

Washington, Feb. 24.—Representative Oscar Underwood, of Alabama, majority leader of the House, to-day was formally entered in the race for the Democratic nomination for the Presidency. Senator Bankhead, in making the announcement, also stated the opening of Underwood headquarters in this city.

Mr. Bankhead will act as chal-
man of the Underwood movement, and as his manager.

COMPLIMENT FOR AUDITOR BOSWORTH

Shelbyville, Ky., Feb. 23.—The members of the Shelby County Business Men's Association, at their next meeting, will probably elec-tute Auditor Henry M. Bosworth an honorary member for life as an expression of their appreciation of his discriminating judgment in ruling that corporations of this character, which are operated for public benefit, not with a view to private profit, are exempt from taxation.

The Association was organized in 1907, and had continued in the even-tenor of its way with no idea that it was violating any State law until 1909, when it was mulcted in the sum of $29.52, representing an annual tax of $10, with fees, penalty, etc. Since that time the secretary has regularly remitted the annual dues. He pursued the same course this year, but had his check returned with a very courteous letter from the Auditor to the effect above stated.

POTATO PEELER IS TO GET ALABAMA FORTUNE

New York, Feb. 24.—After scrubbing floors and peeling potatoes for a living in the city lodging house here for a fortnight or more, Leopold Hirschberg learned from a relative this week that his father had died and left him real estate in Alabama worth about $100,000. He will leave on Monday to claim his inheritance.

HONORS WERE EVEN IN OKLAHOMA'S VOTE

State's Delegation Was Equally Divided Between Messrs.
Clark and Wilson.

Oklahoma City, Okla., Feb. 23.—
Oklahoma's Democratic State convention, which began yesterday afternoon with all indications pointing to a bitter factional fight, ended
late to-day in a political lovefeast, the selection of a split delegation to the Baltimore convention, and the election of Roger Galbreath, of Tulsa, uncommitted as to his preference for Presidential nominee, as national committeeman.

The compromise which brought about the harmonious conclusions was reached early to-day at a conference of the leaders of the factions supporting Speaker Champ Clark and Gov. Woodrow Wilson, of New Jersey, after the delegates, wearied by a stormy all-night session, had taken a recess for a few hours to recuperate for a renewal of the fight on the floor of the convention. It was agreed that twenty delegates be elected from the State at large, each with half a vote, ten instructed for Clark and ten for Wilson. When the convention reassembled this afternoon the plan was ratified with little debate.

QUITE A NUMBER OF HOLIDAYS FOR YEAR 1912

The holidays for the year 1912 are as follows: January 1, New Year's Day; January 19, Lee's birthday; January 29, McKinley's birthday; February 2, groundhog day; February 12, Lincoln's birthday; February 14, St. Valentine's day; February 21, Ash Wednesday; February 22, Washington's birthday; March 17, St. Patrick's day;
April 1, All Fool's day; April 5,
Good Friday; April 7, Easter; April 19, Patriot's day; April 27, Grant's birthday; May 12, Mother's day;
May 18, Peach day; May 22, Jew-mas day.

In some States there are other days celebrated, especially in the South, where Jackson and Jefferson Davis are honored, while other States observe Arbor day, Pioneer's day, Mardi Gras, etc., but those named above receive the most general observance.

Mammoth Eagle Caught.

The Central City Argus says:
There is on exhibition at Fred Robertson's drug store a large eagle recently captured in Barren county. The eagle was seen by a farmer and caught in a steel trap baited with a rabbit. It had already carried away two pigs belonging to the farmer. The trap caught the bird by one toe, and the eagle carried trap, rabbit and a big block of wood to which the trap was fastened, more than half a mile. It measures seven feet and five inches from tip to tip of its wings. Frank McQuown bought the eagle for $5.

Even the name "China" is to pass into history with the fall of the

A CORN-GROWING CLUB FOR OHIO COUNTY BOYS

Should Be a Success This Year
—Particulars in Regard To the Matter.

Believing it is the best way to arouse an interest in the betterment of agriculture in the county, we are organizing a Corn Growing Club of the boys of the county. We believe that the things that will help and interest the boy will benefit the father.

I am sending out letters to all the trustees, asking them to send in the names of boys who will enter this contest. Please send me your names at once. I hope to have a large club organized soon. We can have this club and make it a success this year if the farmers will assist. Let me hear from you at once.

Because of poor seed corn and bad conditions last year, the Boys' Corn Growing Club was almost a failure. Many reported early in the spring of last year that it was impossible to secure a stand from the corn furnished the boys. So I have decided to appeal to the boys and to the farmers again to try to make it a success this year. This year I shall ask the farmers to directly aid me in securing the names of boys who will enter this contest. We can get seed corn this year that is guaranteed to be first-class and plenty of it to plant an acre of ground. We started in last spring too late to work up the proper amount of interest in the contest, but this spring, through the aid of all persons who are interested in corn growing and better farming, we can make it a success in which the whole county will be benefited and still not cost the county anything.

All boys under 18 and over 10 years of age will be allowed to enter. Each boy will be furnished enough corn to plant one acre and will be given instructions as to what is expected of him.

I want the name, address, age and school district of all the boys who will enter this contest.

Attractive prizes will be offered and every encouragement will be given.

Will you join me in making this a success? HENRY LEACH, Supt. Ohio County Schools.

RELIGIOUS AWAKENING IS SWEEPING COUNTIES

A general religious awakening seems to be sweeping over southern and central Kentucky, and quite a number of successful revivals have been conducted since last December. The old-time cottage prayer meetings are being revived, and several conversions have been reported from these services. The people, both old and young, are becoming aroused and seem to be interested in their spiritual condition. Notwithstanding the extreme cold weather, the old-fashioned baptizings in creeks are being reported, and in many sections the ice on creeks had to be cut before the converts could be baptized.

One thing that seems to have aroused the people of this section more than anything else is the temperance question, and in several of the adjoining counties the women and children have been organized, and are visiting the homes and securing the names of the citizens who will vote out whiskey.

Notice A. S. of E.

A call meeting of the Ohio County Union A. S. of E. will be held at the court house, Hartford, Ky., at 9 o'clock Saturday, March 9. State Organizer J. F. Doss, of Greenville, and S. B. Robertson, State Secretary, of Calhoun, will be present. Very important meeting and all locals are requested to be represented. All poultry pledges will be signed and turned in at this meeting. L. B. TICHENOR, Pres.

EXEMPLIFICATIONS OF THE COUNTRY EDITOR

The following is from the pen of Walt Mason, the philosopher-poet, whose writings appear in many of the daily journals of the country:

The country editor has to make much of the news he writes. The commercial club, the church, the baseball team, the law and order league, the county central committee, the whist club and the good roads movement, all must feel the influence of his guiding hand. He must be everything and run errands for every one, send out the circulars, do the town lying for harmony's sake and hold the sack. He must be guide, philosopher and friend to those in trouble and be a mentor and admonisher to those who are about to get into trouble. The preacher, the town drunkard, the statesman, the social climber, the real estate boomer, the man from the grand lodge who is about

ROYAL BAKING POWDER

Absolutely Pure

The only Baking Powder made from Royal Grape Cream of tartar
NO ALUM, NO LIME PHOSPHATE

to exemplify the new work, the promoter, the captain of industry, all come to him with their troubles. He is the town confessor, the town boomer and the town boat—door-mat, rock of refuge, errand boy and the vicarious sacrifice. The editor is the only creature in all the animal kingdom that needs the wings of a dove, the strength of a lion, the smooth, crawling belly of the worm of the dust, and the aspirations of a god.

One More Unfortunate.

John Tunstall, a well known farmer of near Dundee, was found dead Sunday morning by Henry Ralph, near Panther creek bridge. He went to Owensboro Monday, came back to Deansfield Tuesday and got off the train and started for home. That was the last seen of him until Sunday morning, when he was found near a little cabin. He was lying on his face in a small stream near the cabin. He had left three quarts of whiskey and one empty bottle in the cabin. The inquest was held by Squire J. L. Patton. Verdict of jury—died of heart failure. It is said he had been drinking for several days.

Hocker—Pirtle.

Mr. Henry M. Pirtle and Miss Susan Mary Hocker were married at the home of the bride in the Liberty Church neighborhood last Sunday afternoon at one o'clock. The ceremony was performed by Rev. A. L. Mell, of Beaver Dam.

Miss Hocker is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Hocker and is a most earnest worker in the Liberty Methodist church.

Mr. Pirtle, who is the youngest son of Mr. F. W. Pirtle, Hartford, Route 1, is the secretary of the Ohio County Union A. S. of E. and a most excellent farmer.

Immediately after the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Pirtle went to Beaver Dam, where they boarded the train for Frankfort, where Mr. Pirtle attended the Farmers' Institute, after which they will visit Dr. J. E. Pirtle, of Versailles, and will also visit the well known Elmdorf Stock Farm near Lexington, going from there to Louisville, where they will visit Mrs. Sally T. Johnson, an aunt of the groom, for a few days. They will return home the first of next week.

Child Dies of Burns.

Central City, Ky., Feb. 25.—Opal Humphrey, the nine-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wiley Humphrey, is dead, as the result of burns she suffered on Thursday. The child had been playing in the room and getting too near the grate fire, her clothing caught fire. Her father who is seriously ill was in the adjoining room, and catching the child as she ran past him, he extinguished the blaze. It was believed she would recover, but she suffered a sudden change in her condition.

The entertainment given at Dr. Bean's Opera House last Friday night for the benefit of the New Methodist Church building fund, was well patronized and highly enjoyed by all present. The different selections were well rendered, especially the "vocal organ" by Mrs. John B. Wilson, assisted by several young ladies as the "notes." The cantata, "Ye Old Folks Concert," was "great." The little folks, as usual, acquitted themselves well. A neat cash sum was realized for the building fund.

Company H. Attention!

Company H will be instructed February 28 and 29 by Capt. E. W. Clark, of Hopkinsville. The members of the company are directed to report at the armory at 7 p. m. on each date. At eight o'clock on the night of the 29th the company will be instructed in heavy marching order.

Calendars, like any other commodity, should be purchased from a house of established reputation and proved stability.

The A. M. Collins Mfg. Co., of Philadelphia which supplies us with Art Advertising Calendars, is such a house.

Established since 1857, it has been for years the largest producer of high-grade cardboard in the United States, and its various specialties have given it world-wide fame.

It has earned its reputation by unfaltering honesty and the strictest maintenance of quality in all its products.

Since embarking in the calendar business it has spared no expense in building up a line which is unexcelled in quality, originality and advertising value by that of any other house.

It is worth your while to know something about the products of this house. Samples for 1913 are now ready. Don't fail to see them.

AN, HERE'S THE DOPE OF POLITICAL FUTURE

Roosevelt and Taft Out of It and Dark Horse Will Win, Says Prophetess.

Mme. De Thebes, a celebrated French prophetess, whose reputation for predicting great events is international, has taken a glance into America's immediate political future, and, in an interview with the World correspondent, she shed light on certain questions that at present are puzzling the American public.

"At the present moment," Mme. Thebes said, "former President Roosevelt is living in profound silence. He is burning with a desire to be President again, but he is afraid to risk his popularity by disregarding the third term precedent. He sits mute, like a doctor, with his hand on the pulse of the American people, waiting for some sign. If he could wait until August he would be able to settle the question without difficulty, but he must decide soon. This worries him, because he does not know whether to obey the voice of ambition or listen to the counsel of prudence."

"I can tell him that if he is nominated he will be elected. I can tell him he could be nominated if he wished, but he will not be nominated or elected because he will not be a candidate."

"As for President Taft, he is what we call here sick; not physically sick, but the conditions surrounding him are unfortunate. He has lost ground and will not again be President."

"This is wholly his own fault, because he has not been decorative enough in office, or, as you would say, not picturesque enough. He has not appealed to the imagination of the people."

"As to Woodrow Wilson, I will only say that men of his type will be better appreciated in America 20 years from now than they are to-day."

"Some man who is what you call an outsider will have much influence in determining America's immediate political future. I believe this man will come from your Congress or from a home executive position, but upon his counsels much will depend."—[Paris Cor. New York World.]

Life in Kansas.

A Kansas merchant who had just paid a fine because his vegetable display box was not six inches higher than the sidewalk, ventured the assertion that a man can't go from morning till night without breaking some Kansas law, no matter how careful he is. A hotel man thought he could, and a wager was made and the next day was set for the test.

"I'll win that bet all right," said the hotel man. "I'll stay in bed all day to-morrow."

And he did, until just before dark, when an inspector came along and arrested him for not having, nine-foot sheet on his bed.—[Kansas City Times.]

YOUNG GIRLS FORM A MINE RESCUE CLUB

Troy, Ill., Feb. 23.—Sixty young women of Troy have formed a First Aid To the Injured Miners Club, for permanent rescue work in Troy and surrounding territory.

They received instructions recently, when the Illinois State mine rescue car made a trip through the county, and, as a result of several experiments in the use of oxygen helmets and first aid work, determined to organize a club of their own. They are being assisted by the Troy miners, who believe they will be of great assistance.

Miss Tyrone Leontine, of Collinsville, is the first girl in Madison county to wear an oxygen helmet in a test room. Troy girls hearing of her venture, decided to organize the club.

In other parts of Madison county organizations have been formed among the miners.

At Collinsville, where the State mine rescue car recently spent two weeks, a club of 40 miners was organized. Mayor L. Guy Knoedler has signified his intention of recommending the purchase by the city of at least two helmets, which will be used by firemen and by the miners in Collinsville Township.

AND THIS IS MAN!

What is man that he should hypnotize himself into believing that he is the big noise?

Man, proud man, born of woman, is small doughnuts and few in a paper bag.

He springs up to-day and flourishes like a bootlegger in a dusty town, and to-morrow or the day after the undertaker comes with his tapeline and takes his measure.

He weds a wealthy girl with a joblot of freckles and the next day her pa fails with many liabilities and no assets, and comes to abide thenceforth with his stratled son-in-law.

The cellar door of life is for him full of pestiferous splinters, but he slides down it with utter disregard of the speed limit.

He goes forth in the early morning to conquer the world, but the world refuses to be conquered, and so he comes home in an ambulance. In the midst of life he runs into debt, but he crawls out at a snail's pace—if at all.

He struts down the boulevard with his head high in the air and meets the bank teller with a slight draft for $113, and a bill collector flags him at every corner.

He climbs aboard the trolley car and goes to the horse trot, but much dust adheres to his shoes on his homeward journey.

He sits up until 3 a. m. to hear the election returns from the back townships, and learns in the end that the other fellow has copped his bet.

He lays up a goodly pile of riches in the bank, and the cashier monkeys with margins and steals away between two days to pick bananas in Honduras.

He remains late at the office chasing a trial balance to its lair, then goes home to encounter a rocking chair in the dimly lighted hall. The rocker rises in its might and puts him on the mat.

He invests in a watch dog, and when he returns to his wigwam after a prolonged lodge session, the dog refuses to recognize him, and so he roosts in a tree until the milkmen comes.

In the early spring he discards his flannels, and a breeze from Medicine Hat comes his way and he is filled to overflowing with rheumatism.

With the advent of summer he goes into camp and gorges himself with vegetables fresh from the rusty cans of the village grocer, and a multitude of creeping things hold nightly carnival on his person.

In the fall begins the winter of his discontent. The furnace camps on his trail and he is filled with wood, soot, ashes and profanity.

He puts on his autumn trousers and a fussy wasp that has taken up its abode therein disputes his right and title thereto.

He transfers a mammoth potted palm from the front porch to the cellar. He goes down the steps in advance with considerable suddenness, and the palm follows quickly and sits upon him triumphantly.

And this is man—proud man!—

SHE WOULDN'T STRIP AND FAILED TO ENLIST

The Daring Scheme of a Girl Who Wanted to Go to Her Lover.

Louisville, Ky., Feb. 22.—Clear-eyed, handsome, well dressed and without a faltering step "he" walked into the United States Marine Corps Recruiting Office this morning, and strolling over to the desk of Corporal A. M. Stowe, gently asked to be enlisted. The Corporal was fooled.

"I want to enlist," said the good-looking candidate. "Strip for examination," was the Corporal's prompt response. Off came coat, vest, collar and tie.

"I am ready," announced the candidate. "Keep on; that's not enough," snapped the officer.

Something suspiciously like a sob came from the part of the room where the candidate was standing. Copious tears rolled down the soft cheeks of the supposed "he."

"I—I do-o-n't want to. I don't intend to. I'm not a boy, I'm a girl. So there!"

And then the girl broke down and told Corporal Stowe that she cut off her hair because she wanted to enlist in the Marine Corps in order that she might be with her lover, who is stationed in Peking, China. However, there was not a chance for the young lady to see her lover. Without giving her name and address, she reluctantly put on her coat, vest, tie and collar and left the office.

ANTI-TRUST LAW IS RIDICULOUS, SAYS ANDY

In his testimony before the Stanley Investigation Committee at Washington, Andrew Carnegie said that the day of competition in the steel trade had gone by and he admitted that prices are controlled by agreement. Mr. Gardner, the attorney representing the committee, then read to Mr. Carnegie the following paragraph:

"Every contract, combination in the form of trust or otherwise, or conspiracy in restraint of trade or commerce among the several States, or with foreign nations, is hereby declared to be illegal. Every person who shall make any such contract, or engage in any such combination or conspiracy, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and, on conviction thereof, shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $5,000, or by imprisonment not exceeding one year, or by both said punishments, in the discretion of the court."

Mr. Carnegie was then asked: "Would it be advisable for Congress to enact such a law as I have just read to you?"

"Such a law would be ridiculous," promptly responded Mr. Carnegie. "Well," replied Mr. Gardner, "what I have just read is the first section of the Sherman anti-trust law, that has been on the statute books since 1890."

The New York World's correspondent, referring to this incident, says: "Mr. Carnegie looked sheepish, everybody else laughed."

THE UNPARDONABLE SIN.

You can break the Ten Commandments and Society will forgive, But there's one sin that no man can ever manage to outlive.

You can buy a snow-white mantle and all other misdeeds cloak— But the sin that's without pardon is the crime of being broke.

You can break the Ten Commandments, and the world will roll along, And no man will dare to question if you're with the wealthy throng.

And no man will shun or scorn you while you're of the moneyed folk— But the sin beyond forgiveness is the crime of being broke.

You can break the Ten Commandments and avoid all worldly grills, For there's something that absolves you in a ready roll of bills, And we'll call you a good fellow and we'll pass it as a joke— But the sin that's without pardon is the crime of being broke.

A GREAT DISCOVERY.

Certain Ingredients That Really Promote Hair Growth When Properly Combined.

Resorcin is one of the most effective germ destroyers ever discovered by science, and in connection with Beta Naphthol, which is both germicidal and antiseptic, a combination is formed which destroys the germs that rob the hair of its natural nourishment, and also creates a clean, healthy condition of the scalp, which prevents the development of new germs.

Pilocarpin, although not a coloring matter or dye, is a well known ingredient for restoring the hair to its natural color, when the loss of hair has been caused by a disease of the scalp.

These ingredients in proper combination, with alcohol added as a stimulant and for its well-defined nourishing properties, perfect perhaps the most effective remedy that is known for scalp and hair troubles.

We have a remedy which is chiefly composed of these ingredients in combination with other salts, in combination with other extremely invaluable medicinal agents. We guarantee it to positively cure dandruff and to grow hair. If there is any vitality left in the roots, it will positively cure baldness, or we will refund your money. If the scalp has a glazed, shiny appearance, it's an indication that baldness is permanent, but in other instances we believe baldness is curable.

We want every one troubled with scalp disease or loss of hair to try Rexall "93" Hair Tonic. If it does not cure dandruff and grow hair to the satisfaction of the user, we will without question or quibble return every cent paid us for it. We print this guarantee on every bottle. It has effected a positive cure in 93 per cent of cases where put to a practical test.

Rexall "93" Hair Tonic is entirely unlike, and we think, in every particular, better than anything else we know of for the purpose for which it is prescribed. We urge you to try this preparation at our entire risk. Certainly we know of no better guarantee to give you. Remember, you can obtain Rexall Remedies in Hartford only at our store—The Rexall Store—James H. Williams, 214 Main street, Hartford, Ky.

NICKNAMES OF OUR PRESIDENTS

With Roosevelt's Exit from Washington,

THEY WENT OUT OF FASHION

A Short Sketch of Some of the Nation's Famous Characters.

SOME PECULIAR COGNOMENS

There are Americans who refer to Mr. Taft caressingly as "Bill," but nicknames really went out of the White House for a time with "Teddy" in 1909. They came into the Presidential order early and have been persistent.

Washington is well known to history as "Father of His Country," although his sneering critics made it "Step-father." In Byron's verse he is the "Cincinnatus of the West," and to the Seneca chief, Red Jacket, he was "Flower of the Forest." From a sentiment of his own declaration came the sobriquet, "Independence Forever," applied to John Adams.

Jefferson was the "Sage of Monticello" and also the "Father of Expansion." But only his adversaries took the liberty of referring to this tall, slender President as "Long Tom."

John Quincy Adams was "Old Man Eloquent," but also the popular tongue termed him "Tribune of the People," and "Publicola." Andrew Jackson's soldiers dubbed him "Old Hickory," and the name still clings to his memory. While he was in power his enemies called him "King Andrew."

Van Buren, wily politician, was called the "Little Magician" and "Wizard of Kinderhook." Sometimes "Marty" or "Little Van." William Henry Harrison became "Tippecanoe," from his most famous battle. Hence, "Tippecanoe and Tyler too" was the campaign cry of 1840.

The term "Young Hickory" was applied somewhat obscurely to both Tyler and Polk—to the latter, perhaps, because, like Jackson, he was born in North Carolina and went to Tennessee.

Taylor was usually "Old Zach," but he was known also from his soldierly quality as "Rough and Ready" and from his battle record as "Old Buena Vista."

Buchanan was "Buck" and "Bachelor President." But in a message he referred to himself as "Old Public Functionary."

Lincoln had more nicknames than any President, "Father Abraham," "Uncle Abe," "the Railsplitter," "the Great Emancipator" and "Marsa Linkum" being the most popular.

Grant was "Unconditional Surrender," "Old Three Stars" and "Hero of Appomattox."

Arthur was "Our Chet," in token of his good fellowship.

Cleveland was called the "Man of Destiny," but by his foes the "Stuffed Prophet."

Political satirists called Benjamin Harrison "Son of His Grandfather."

McKinley was the "Advance Agent of Prosperity" and the "Napoleon of Canton."—[New York Evening World.

Almost Lost His Life.

I did so and two bottles completely cured me." Use only this quick, safe, reliable medicine for coughs, colds, or any throat or lung trouble. Price 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free. IMPORTS OF POTATOES FOR HOME CONSUMPTION

New York, Feb. 24.—Six large consignments of potatoes are expected to arrive in New York from abroad during the next two days, bringing the total receipts for the season up to a million sacks. The duty on the entire quantity will foot up to nearly $700,000.

Imports will decrease from now on, as Germany and France are both buying heavily in Ireland and England. This is the first year that America has gone abroad for potatoes since 1908.

In the United States growers raise about seventy-five bushels of potatoes to the acre, while in England and Ireland the crops run from 200 to 235 bushels to the acre.

Master Commissioner's Sale. Ohio Circuit Court, Kentucky. Jessie Phipps, Plaintiff, vs.

Laura Greenwood, &c., Defendants. By virtue of a judgment and order of sale of the Ohio Circuit Court, rendered at The June term, 1911, in the above cause for the purpose of the division of the proceeds amongst the parties in interest and paying the costs herein, I will offer for sale by public auction at the court house door in Hartford, on Monday, the 4th day of March, 1912, about one o'clock p. m., upon a credit of six and twelve months, the following described property, to-wit:

About one hundred acres of land, being the same conveyed to E. V. Phipps by Jas. C. Warden in November, 1850, and deed for which is recorded in Deed Book "L", page 545, Ohio County Clerk's office, lying in Ohio county, Kentucky, and beginning at two beeches, sweet gum and black gum in W. C. Warden's line, corner of G. R. Ashley's 176 acres; thence E. 100 poles to a beech, dogwood and stone; thence N. 362 poles to Daviess' corner on Rough Creek; thence down Rough Creek in its meanders to the mouth of Big Run; thence to an ash, two maples, corner to Jos. Barnett's survey, to which this is a part; thence up the Big Run with its meanders to two white oaks, poplar and hickory near where Condit's Ferry crosses the Big Run; thence S. 20 E. 117 poles to the beginning, containing two hundred acres more or less, but erroneously said to contain one hundred and twenty-five.

Excepting therefrom the surface of a certain tract of 100 acres sold by E. V. Phipps to Mary Tichenor as shown by Deed Book 34, page 351, and which 100 acres of surface only is bounded and described as follows:

Beginning at a stone, corner in the Hartford and Point Pleasant road; thence N. 3 3/4 E. 260 rods to a beech on Rough River; thence down that stream to a stone and small hickory; thence S. 3 3/4 W. 134 rods to a stone in the Hartford and Point Pleasant road; thence with the road S. 58 E. 15 rods and 18 links; thence S. 68 1/4 E. 38 rods; thence S. 72 1/4 E. 20 rods to the beginning, containing 100 acres more or less. All the coal and mineral under which was reserved by E. V. Phipps and is now owned by his estate, and this boundary is a part of the land conveyed by John C. Warden to E. V. Phipps. And excepting also the family graveyard with right of ingress and egress.

Leaving by recent survey by John B. Wilson, the following boundary to be sold, viz:

Beginning at a hickory in Mary Tichenor's line, 50 feet from low water on Rough River; thence down said river as it meanders, binding on low water S. 39 1/2 W. 7 1/2 poles, S. 61 1/2 W. 11 poles, S. 87 1/2 W. 12 1/2 poles, N. 73 1/4 W. 9 1/4 poles, N. 52 W. 8 1/4 poles to a maple, Frank Ross' corner; thence with his line S. 53 W. 6 poles to the center of Big Run creek; thence up same as it meanders in the middle thereof to a stone, corner with Jno. and Arbin Tichenor and Rowe on the Hartford and Point Pleasant road; thence with Rowe's line S. 17 W. 9 1/2 poles to a stone; thence with Rowe's and J.B. Wade's lines S. 3 3/4 W. 112 1/2 poles to a stone and black gum, G.H. Ashby's corner in Wade's line; thence with Ashby's line S. 36 1/4 E. 100 poles to a stone, Orville Bishop's corner in Ashby's line; thence with Bishop's line N. 3 3/4 E. 83 1/2 poles to a stone, said Mary Tichenor's corner on said road; thence with said road and her lines N. 72 1/4 W. 20 poles N. 68 1/4 W. 38 poles N. 58 E. 15 poles and 18 links to a stone, her corner on said road; thence with another of her lines, N. 3 3/4 E. 134 poles to the beginning, containing 101 acres more or less.

The purchaser will be required to execute bond with approved security immediately after sale.

CARE WITH GASOLINE—SIMPLE PRECAUTIONS

Of Interest to Those Who Employ This Much Used Fluid.

The Rochester Chamber of Commerce has a department on fire prevention which has issued a bulletin on the proper care to be used with gasoline. The widespread use of this fluid prompts a reproduction of the advice:

"A pint of gasoline left open in a basin in a room at a normal or average temperature will entirely evaporate in 24 hours. The gasoline vapor is heavier than the air and sinks immediately to the floor and unless it is disturbed by active air currents, will remain in the room for many hours. One pint of gasoline will make two hundred cubic feet of explosive mixture. Without becoming too scientific, it may be said that this gasoline vapor is seven times more powerful than gunpowder.

"Every gasoline explosion and fire that occurs in the home is due to ignorance and carelessness on the part of user. Gloves must be cleaned, fabrics must be dipped in gasoline or alcohol, and their use will continue. For that reason, it is vitally important that the user should have all the information possible about the danger incurred.

"Gasoline should be used in open air wherever possible, but if it must be used in the house, all the windows should be opened wide and a sufficient draft created to drive all the vapor from the room. It is almost criminal to use gasoline in the kitchen or other rooms where it is exposed to fire. The vapor has been known to jump thirty feet from a tank in the open air and explode with such violence as to wreck the tank car and burn all the buildings in the immediate neighborhood.

"It is not necessary to touch a match to it. A spark from the heel of a shoe striking a tack or nail will explode the vapor. A lighted gas jet will produce the same result. Keep gasoline away from every kind of flame, even if the flame is enclosed, as in a stove or furnace.

"Articles dipped, washed or soaked in gasoline give off an explosive vapor for hours after. They should be thoroughly aired before being used and always kept away from any exposed flame. A woman cleaned her gloves with gasoline. An hour later she put them on to go out. Before leaving the house she stopped to light the gas. The gloves caught fire and severely burned her hands and arms."

DON'T EXPOSE CHILDREN TO ANY KIND OF DISEASE

In an article on the treatment of sick children in the March Woman's Home Companion, the author, Dr. Roger H. Dennett, a famous New York specialist on the disease of children, says:

"Never, never, never, expose the child to any contagious disease in order that he may have it once and be done with it. Even the so-called simple children's diseases, such as measles or whooping cough, have a death-rate that is appalling."

PSYCHIC DEMONSTRATOR SUES FOR LARGE SUM

Alleges That His Partners in Business Failed to Carry Out Contract.

The Hopkinsville New Era says: This is the last day for filing suits so as to have them docketed for hearing at the term of court which will begin Monday-week for a six weeks term. Consequently the attorneys are busy preparing their petitions and filing them with the Circuit Clerk.

Among the most interesting of the lately filed suits is one brought against A. D. Noe and A. D. Noe, Jr., by Edgar Cayce, Jr., and L. B. Cayce. Damages in the sum of $28,000 are asked in this action, which is brought by Judge James Breathitt as attorney for the plaintiffs.

The suit is the outgrowth of an arrangement whereby Edgar Cayce, who claims psychic powers by which he can diagnose diseases, and the Messrs. Noe were associated together in promoting the business expected to grow out of this power. The plaintiffs claim that Edgar Cayce was to do the diagnosing, assisted by his father, and that the proceeds were to be equally divided between the two sides of the firm. In addition, they allege, the defendants were to pay for advertising, supply, and maintain an office and to take down the diagnoses as they were made by Mr. Cayce in his hypnotic sleep.

The plaintiffs charge that this contract has been breached in that the defendants did no advertising, that they have not employed a stenographer since January 15, 1911, and that the arrangement, which they say was for five years, has been annulled. According to the petition the only grounds upon which the contract could be cancelled was by Edgar Cayce himself and then only on account of impairment of his health, should such occur.

The amount asked as damages is figured in this way: They say that on a basis of two cases per day for twenty days in each month at the minimum charge of $25 per case, the amount for the five years covered by the contract would have been $56,000. On the basis of an equal division, this would have brought $28,000 to the plaintiffs and this is the amount they pray for.

A. D. Noe, Sr., states that the contract he had with Edgar Cayce was, at Mr. Cayce's request, turned over to Frank Moore, general manager of the Nortonville Coal Company, and that up to the time Mr. Moore took the contract he had faithfully complied with its terms. He denies that he is indebted to Cayce in any sum whatever.

LITTLE GIRL POISONED WHILE "PLAYING HOUSE"

Accidentally Took a Deadly Potion and Died in Very Short Time.

The Owensboro Messenger of Saturday says:

As a result of accidentally taking a large amount of strychnine, which she swallowed while playing "house" with a number of playmates at her home in Smith's Addition, little Elsie May Hester died at 3 o'clock Thursday afternoon, after four hours of intense suffering.

The little children were playing in the kitchen of the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Hester, and were acting as if they were grown up. The strychnine was on a shelf in a cupboard. The little child opened the box and swallowed an extra large amount of the deadly poison. A few moments later she fell writhing in agony on the floor, while her little playmates ran screaming to her mother, telling her that the child was dead. The parents were at a loss to account for the actions of the child, but upon examination, discovered the box of strychnine on the floor. The children told her that the child had swallowed the contents. The child died in a few hours. The funeral was conducted from the residence at 2 o'clock Friday afternoon, with the interment following in Elmwood cemetery.

A Warning Against Wet Feet.

Wet and chilled feet usually affect the mucous membrane of the nose, throat and lungs, and la grippe, bronchitis or pneumonia may result. Watch carefully, particularly the children, and for the racking, stubborn coughs give Foley's Honey and Tar Compound. It soothes the inflamed membranes, and heals the cough quickly. Mrs. A. A. Swagel, Kroh, Wis., says: "I always give Foley's Honey and Tar Compound to my children. It cures their coughs and colds and they like to take it." For sale by all dealers.

CLOSING EXERCISES OF SCHOOL AT BARTLETTS

Bartletts, Feb. 25.—School at this place closed on the 23d inst. It was taught by Mr. Norbert L. Ross, of near Beaver Dam, and was one of the most successful schools that has been taught here for several years.

There was a large crowd of attentive listeners present on the last day, and they were delightfully entertained by the many excellent recitations and dialogues which were delivered by the students and teacher. After this Miss Ruby D. Mitchell delivered a most beautiful and impressive speech in which she praised Mr. Ross for his kindness and good work as a teacher, presenting to him several handsome and valuable presents which were given by the students of the school. This was followed by the farewell address which was delivered in a very impressive manner by the teacher. The exercises closed by singing, "We'll Never Say Good-bye."

Mr. Ross is an excellent teacher and has the very best wishes of everyone in this community.
